

Anne-Laurence Pastorini joined UNIMED in 2017 where she acts as project manager and contributes to research and networking activities.

She holds a Master Degree in International law - international administration (Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne university) and gained experience in international cooperation within different institutions such as FAO office in Ecuador, CISP (italian NGO) and French Embassy in Algeria, French Ministry of Foreign Affairs, World Bank Regional Office in Dakar.

University cooperation has been the main direction within this positions with a focus on the Maghreb region. Before joining UNIMED, she was in charge of the Mediterranean - Arab world partnerships for Paris 1 Panthéon-Sorbonne University where she accompanied also the creation of the Chaire Maghreb.